

We are returning to a procession of the faithful for the reception of communion with the following modifications:

- The front sections, west and east will be served by Fr. Greg. Both back sections will be served by an extraordinary minister. Procession begins when they are in place.
- The front west (near the baptismal font) and the back east (near the statues) will go first.
- After these two sections are served, Fr. Greg/minister will move to the other sections.
- The far east short set of pews will follow the last row of the front east section and file out from back to front (an usher will help guide the procession).
- Proceed out of your pew to the center aisle, with your mask on, row by row, maintaining social distance, and staying close to pews.
- Receive communion in your hand, proceed to corner area, pause to lift your mask, and consume the host.
- Return to your pew with your mask on.
